Whether Mr. Cleveland blasphemed in he presence of the gentlemen called upon him during the recent camalgn to secure his pledges of patronage Tammany Hail is a question which night to be easily settled. Will Mr. ought to be easily settled. Cleveland kindiy repeat the remarks he uttered on that important occasion?

There appears to be a good deal of eat in a dispatch from Montreal to the effect that a syndicate of American capitaiists, of which Wililam C. Whitney is at the head, had secured control of the entire ontput of the Nova Scotla Coal W. De L. Wallbridge, Manager American Coal Company, was n by a reporter at his office in New Mr. Wallbridge said:

York. Mr. Wallbridge said:

"I have no doubt of the truth of the report. It is on a line with the disinterested patriotism of Mr. Whitney find others who have heen so active in socuring the election of Mr. Cleveland. It is plain to my mind that one of the first efforts to revise the Tariff will be to take the duty, which is now seventy-five cents a ton, off coal. If this he done it will threaten the bituminous coal interests of the United States East of the Allegheey Mountains, and will affect the employ meet of a hundred thousand workingmen and millions of dollars of invested capital.

Ancipal market for hituminess.

which necessitates as expensive and unavoidable have paired. The coal valuable have company is shipped either to Baltimore or Philadelphia at a cost of $1.00 of railroad toils person. The Nova Scotia mines are located directly on the seaboard, and coal can be loaded directly from the mines luto vessels for Boston and other New England ports. The result of this competition would not only throw out of employment thousands of miners, but it would also affect disastrously the business of the railroads, whose dividends are at present dependent on the coal-carrying tradic. Out of Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfox the greatest tonange of vessels in any one branch of commerce is employed in the coal-carrying tradic. Out of Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfox the greatest others also for commerce is employed in the coal-carrying trade. This shipping of Nova Scotia coal in English bottoms would prove a serious blow to the shipping interests of these ports. The other side of that question, that of the benefits which New England would derive from cheaper coal, would be offset by the fact that a large market for their goods in the region affected by the paralysis of this important industry would be parallyjis out off, and they could not hope to extend their trade to Nova Scotia, which will continue, as before, to get her needs supplied from the manufacturing contents of the mother country."
